troops occurred in front of the national palace and General Reyes, whose long record of army officer was broken little more than a year ago by a farcical revolt, was killed instantly by a bullet through the head.

Women and Boys Killed.

Many fell in this engagement and among the scores of bodies which strewed the streets were those of minor officers, women and boys of the lower classes and members of the great crowd of spectators which had gathered at the firing of the shot.

At the first call to arms President Madero took command of a force of approximately 1,000, consisting of mounted police, Chapultepec cadets and a small detachment of volunteers. He appeared at the head of this force a mile from the national palace, riding a big gray horse. By his side rode General Huerta, hero of the campaign against Orozco and one of the army generals whom the public generally had suspected of being disloyal.

General Mondragon, who led the mutineers in their first attacks, was at one time prominently identified with the artillery corps. The first rising occurred among soldiers of the artillery branch of the army. It was they, led by students, who fired a fusillade at the prison guards and liberated the two rebel leaders.

Diaz succeeded in capturing the arsenal after a strong resistance by the federalists. A large number of rurales and mounted police then went over to his cause. Later an artillery company from Tacubaya with a dozen field guns rode into the arsenal grounds shouting for Diaz.

It is reported that revolutionary movements have begun in other places and that there is fighting a short distance south of the capital.

WILL PROTECT AMERICANS

But United States Has No Intention of Intervening.

Washington, Feb. 10.—First news of the revolt of the federal army at Mexico City reached Washington in a state department dispatch from Nuevo Laredo, Mex., stating that General Reyes had been killed in the attack on the Mexican palace. No details were given whether the rebels or loyal federalists were in control.

Inquiry into the situation, based upon the dispatches thus far received brought forth the assurance, however, that it would not influence the present administration to change its policy and that there would be no interference with political affairs of Mexico by this government even should the rebellion proceed to a successful conclusion.

Every precaution, it was said, would be taken to protect lives and property of Americans in Mexico.

Madero Declares Martial Law.

Shortly after the first outbreak occurred Madero declared martial law throughout the city and announced he would ask congress to authorize a suspension of the guarantees throughout the republic. General Huerta was named as post commander on account of the wounding of General Villar.

In the belief that the government had scored an easy victory Foreign Minister Lascurain, Ernesto Madero and others of the cabinet embraced one another and congratulated themselves and the president on what they called the new turn of events.

Those who have observed affairs closely point out that General Diaz, who escaped being shot summarily, following the failure of the Vera Cruz revolt, can now expect no clemency. There is no question that Diaz is straining every fiber to depose Madero and with the large forces at his command, both within the city and outside, it is not likely that the present revolt and the rising within the capital will be suppressed easily.

In replying to the representations of the foreign diplomats General Diaz said that he could offer no protection to foreigners. He would have about 2,000 and 3,000 men, he said, including half the mounted police and a large force of artillery, but he could not detach any for the service asked, much as he regretted it.

Guarding American Embassy.

The American embassy is now guarded by twenty Americans, members of the protective association which was formed several months ago. The diplomats then sent a message to General Diaz, notifying him that they would look to him to give such protection.

After a lull in the fighting the government sent a force to attack the arsenal, but the federalists were repulsed with heavy losses.

The total number of dead is reported to be 250.

General Diaz, who is the nephew of the deposed president, Porfirio Diaz, is now at the head of a majority of the capital troops, including most of the artillery, and is in possession of the arsenal in the city and the powder works nearby.

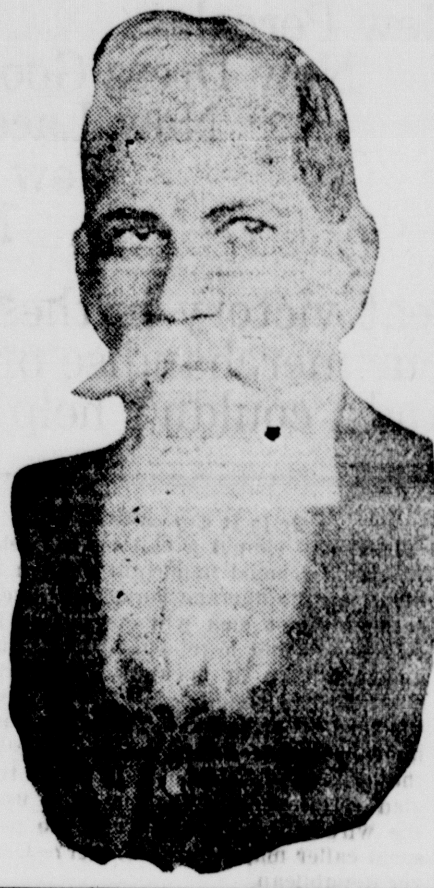

Madero is relying on the loyalty of General Bianquet, who has been summoned from forty miles distant, but Bianquet has only a thousand men under his command, and the rebels are confident of defeating him, should he refuse to join the revolt.

The day was marked by four separate engagements, the most sanguinary of which took place in front of the national palace. But the most important was that terminated in the formal surrender of troops in the artillery barracks.

OFFICERS ARE REINSTATED

Colonel Dissolves Minnesota Militia Courtmartial.

St. Paul, Feb. 10.—The five St. Paul officers of the national guard who were courtmartialled last Monday for alleged disobedience of orders, and the fifteen officers suspended, have been reinstated in their commands by Colonel Erie D. Luce, commanding the First regiment, who filed charges against the men.

Colonel Luce's announcement, explaining his action, is as follows: "The courtmartial in the Minnesota national guard, called for the purpose of trying Major George K. Sheppard, and Captains F. A. Tiffany, A. E. Anderson, W. H. Barnacle and A. C. Thompson, is dissolved, a technical objection having been submitted by the court to me, going into the question of jurisdiction of the court. I have decided to resolve the objection in favor of the accused officers and therefore have issued an order dissolving the court and returning the officers to duty."

REVENUE CUTTERS
SAVED MANY LIVESAnnual Report Shows Heroic and Humanitarian Service.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The United States revenue cutter service—the Red Cross of the sea—broke all its previous heroic and humanitarian records during the fiscal year 1912. Thousands of human lives and hundreds of tons of cargo were saved from the perils of storm swept seas by the little cutters which guard the coastline of the United States in an unbroken line from Maine to Texas and from Alaska to California, nervously alert for the "S. O. S."

The annual report of Captain E. P. Berthoff, commandant of the service, made public, is a recitation of thrilling adventures of this arm of the federal government, older than the American navy. A total of 260 distressed vessels were assisted during the year and their burden, 2,212 souls, rescued from danger which in many cases seemed impending death. One hundred and six persons were actually saved from drowning.

Vessels, cargoes and derelicts saved by the revenue cutter service during the year were valued at $10,711,749. Forty-five derelicts and other dangerous obstructions to navigation were removed or destroyed.

CELLS REEK WITH VERMIN

Judge Says Chicago Jails Are Dirtiest in Country.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Police station cells in this city were described by Municipal Judge Dolan as being the most horrible in any civilized country. The charges were made in a speech before a lawyers' association. Judge Dolan demanded a night court for the immediate disposition of cases.

Prisoners are brought into court in the morning covered with vermin and dirt so they hardly can be recognized," he said. "Many cells are in basements with an open sewer back of some of them. If a delicately brought up woman were put in such a place by any chance it might be enough to kill her. I shall demand a change from the present conditions."

FIREMEN FAVOR A STRIKE

Ninety Per Cent Vote for Immediate Action.

New York, Feb. 10.—The ballots of the 30,000 firemen employed on fifty-four Eastern railroads, it was announced unofficially, show that 90 per cent of the men favor immediate strike unless the conference committee of railroad managers agrees to arbitration under the federal Erdman act.

TAFT IS AMONG
WILSON ADVISERSRetiring President's Speeches
Give Counsel.

SUCCESSOR WELL TUTORED.

Scores of Visitors, Magazines and Newspapers Tell Governor What He Must Do, Treating Him as if He Were a Fledgling—Roosevelt Had Contempt For That Sort of Advice.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Feb. 10.—[Special.]—Being a kindly disposed individual, President Taft does not hesitate to hand out all kinds of advice to his successor. Governor Wilson has been overburdened with advice of a personal kind, intimate suggestions by those who have called to see him; he has been told through the magazines and newspapers how to run his administration, and President Taft has told him in numerous speeches just what he ought to do about the Philippines and several other matters of national importance.

Everybody seems to go along on the idea that Governor Wilson is a fledgling, a man who knows nothing about the big public questions that will come before him in his new position. That same idea prevailed when Roosevelt was suddenly thrust into the presidency. "I have received tons and tons of advice—mostly bad," said that individual, who has a way of doing things to suit himself.

Fear of Conservatives. One reason why many of the conservative senators do not want Bryan in the cabinet is because they fear that his knowledge of men throughout the country, his personal acquaintance with Democrats in every state, county and township, will be the guide to President Wilson in naming the federal appointees under the new administration.

In that event they would of course be Bryan men. And most of such Bryan men would be antagonistic to the old machines and conservatives who have been opposed to Bryan since he came so prominently before the country. At the same time they have accepted it as a foregone conclusion that Bryan will be secretary of state.

Summit of Success.

A man who has been for many years a member of the house and whose talents have attracted attention in his state to the extent of making him governor and then becomes United States senator has reached the summit of success. Of course there is the grand prize—the presidency—but that is reserved for other men. No man who has been congressman, governor and senator has ever been president.

By the time the men have become as prominent as that they have aroused too many antagonisms to be made president. There are quite a number of senators who have been members of the house and governors before their election to the senate.

Wanted a Mann Fighter.

At the beginning of his term as speaker Champ Clark urged several young men in the house to take up the subject of rules and parliamentary law and be on hand all the time to fight the minority leader, Jim Mann. As the house now stands Fitzgerald and Underwood are the only men who can cope with Mann.

They are absent much of the time attending to the important committees of which they are chairmen. As a consequence Mann has things pretty much his own way, from a parliamentary point of view. Only a few members pretend to have accurate knowledge of the rules of the house, and it does not take long to tie a parliamentary knot.

Democrats Like Warren.

A group of Democrats were talking about senatorial elections, and one after another expressed pleasure over the success of Senator Warren in Wyoming. "Why do you like Warren?" asked a man who was present. "Well," was the reply of one, "he always stood by us and helped us when we were in the minority. He never antagonized us." And the others assented to that declaration.

Take It Personally.

"Some members of the house," remarked Speaker Clark, "take it as a personal affront when they are overruled on a point of order or other parliamentary proceeding. It makes it rather disagreeable, but a speaker cannot allow personal considerations to enter into his rulings."

Several of the men Champ refers to are members of his own party, and it is suspected that they carried their personal opposition as far as the Baltimore convention last year.

Harvard Expert.

A bill backed by Congressman Hamilton of Michigan was up in the house which had to do with the shipment of very young calves. In the course of his argument Hamilton said that the proposition was endorsed by Dr. Elliot, former president of Harvard university.

"He qualifies, no doubt," interjected Jim Mann, "as an expert on immature calves because he was former president of Harvard."

And so Mann achieved one of his daily jokes, which he says are necessary for his perfect health.

EXPECT MANY INDICTMENTS

More Sensations Likely in New York Police Scandals.

New York, Feb. 10.—Nine indictments and possibly ten, it was learned, are expected to be returned by the grand jury in the police graft investigation.

Two of these indictments will be against members of the police department, one of whom is said to be an inspector. A lawyer mentioned in connection with the graft investigations is a third man whose indictment is expected.

The connection of the others with the graft revelations in the detailed confessions of Potrolman Fox and Captain Walsh could not be learned. As a result of Walsh's statements to District Attorney Whitman, Police Commissioner Waldo has already suspended Inspector Dennis Sweeney and several police captains and lesser officers.

PROHIBITS INTERSTATE
SHIPMENT OF LIQUORHouse Passes Important Temperance Measure.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The Webb bill to prohibit the interstate shipment of liquor into dry states for purposes of sale "or in any manner used" in violation of the state laws was passed by the house, 240 to 65.

The passage of the bill ended one of the most stubborn fought contests of this congress. Senator Kenyon of Iowa, author of the senate measure of the same general purport, sat in the house watching the fight, which opened with a contest over the rule to bring up the Webb bill. Representatives of organized anti-saloon advocates sat in the members' galleries and kept tally on the roll calls.

Representative Fitzgerald of New York criticized his fellow Democratic leaders for not devoting more time to essential appropriation bills. Representative Dailez of Pennsylvania, Republican, said this Democratic house would go down in history as "one of masterful inactivity." Representative Mann of Illinois characterized as "flim-flam" the bringing up of the bill at this time. Former Speaker Cannon declared that the states should regulate traffic themselves. Representative Berger of Wisconsin, Socialist, contended that all great men, from Julius Caesar down to Cannon, were temperate drinkers.

NO VERDICT IN WISNER CASE

Jury Fails to Agree in $2,000,000 Fraud Trial.

New York, Feb. 10.—The government's case against A. L. Wisner and John J. Meyers, indicted for misuse of the mails to promote oil and mining properties, resulted in no verdict. The jury was discharged after vainly trying for forty-six hours to agree.

Wisner and Meyers were accused of defrauding investors all over the country of more than $2,000,000.

Milwaukee, Feb. 10.—Walter W. Wallis, aged sixty, manager of the Milwaukee branch of a rubber goods establishment, ended his life by hanging in the basement of his home.

OF OFFICIALSReport Alleges Incompetence in Reclamation Service.

THREE MEN ARE INVOLVED

House Committee Recommends Inquiry and Requests That Pending Same Assistant Secretary of the Interior Samuel Adams, F. H. Newell and L. C. Hill Be Suspended From Duty.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Charges of incompetence and maladministration of the reclamation service are made and an appropriation of $25,000 is requested for a congressional inquiry in a report which will be sent to the house by the committee on interior expenditures.

The report recommends during the pendency of the proposed inquiry the "removal from office" of Assistant Secretary of the Interior Samuel Adams, F. H. Newell and L. C. Hill, director and supervising engineer respectively of the reclamation service.

Interior department officials, including Director Newell, flatly denied the allegations in the printed report, which is unsigned, but was given out by the committee with the statement that Representative Mendenhall of Missouri would present it. Mr. Mendenhall is chairman of a subcommittee that has been investigating affairs of Indian tribes whose interests, the Hensley report says, "are outrageously intermingled with the affairs of the reclamation service."

Other members of the subcommittee were Representatives Callaway of Texas and Hanna of North Dakota. The latter since has become governor. The report charges that "Newell and his associates" discriminated against the farmers and that the corporations operating the canals and the bondholders thereof "alone receive attention from them in the Salt River project." It alleged that the reclamation act provides criminal proceedings according to its judgment.

EUROPEANS DIE IN RAID

Uprising in Africa Is Punished by Portuguese.

Lisbon, Feb. 10.—Advices from Mozambique, Africa, say the notorious native Chief Napana recently raided the Nampula district of Mozambique, massacring many of the European settlers. The governor immediately dispatched a punitive expedition. After a march of nearly 400 miles the expedition came upon the band and routed them after five hours' fighting, killing 200 and wounding 500. The Portuguese lost four men killed and twenty-two injured.

SCENE SHIFTS TO GALLIOLI

Balkan Armies Apparently Abandon Attempts to Force the Tchatalja Lines in Favor of an Effort to Capture the Gallipoli Peninsula and Thus Open the Way by Sea to Constantinople.

London, Feb. 10.—Some light is beginning to be shed by the brief official dispatches, which contain almost all the available news, upon the military tactics in the Balkan campaign. Reports of attempts on the part of the Turks to land troops along the coasts of the Black sea and the Sea of Marmora, which heretofore were only learned from unofficial sources, are now officially admitted and it looks as if Enver Bey's mysterious and desperate move, of which there have been some rumors, was an attempt to effect a landing at Charkeul, about thirty-five miles to the south-east of Rodosto, with the intention of relieving the pressure of the Bulgarian attack on the Bulair lines.

This movement of the Bulgarians, according to an uncensored dispatch from Constantinople, is causing serious anxiety at the Turkish war office. It is now known that the allies are advancing in strength against Bulair and the Constantinople dispatches added that the Greek fleet has appeared in the Gulf of Serres, where Bulgarians troops also are reported to have landed to assist the Bulgarians.

It now seems clear that the allies have abandoned the attempt to force the Tchatalja lines in favor of an attempt to capture the Gallipoli peninsula, so as to open the way by sea to Constantinople.

According to Turkish reports Turkish reconnaissances have reached Tcherekesskeul and Tchoru, which would indicate that the Bulgarians, who a few days ago were reported to have moved their headquarters to Tcherekesskeul, are moving their lines still farther to the west.

King Ferdinand has gone to Dedeaqatch in order to be closer to the scene of important operations.

Apparently heavy fighting is progressing near Scutari and the bombardment of Adrianople still is in progress.

MAY BE DECISIVE BATTLE

Turks Concentrating Their Forces for Retention of Gallipoli.

London, Feb. 10.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Constantinople says that Enver Bey, chief of the general staff, has landed his force on the Marmora coast and heavy fighting is expected to take place at Gallipoli. This, the correspondent says, may be the decisive battle of the war, as the Turks are concentrating their efforts for the retention of Gallipoli.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Constantinople asserts that the arrangements for Enver Bey's raid were hopelessly muddled; that complete confusion reigns and that the situation is regarded as more serious than in November.

San Salvador, Feb. 10.—Dr. Manuel E. Araujo, president of the republic of San Salvador, who was wounded by the bullets of an assassin Feb. 4, is dead.

Don Carlos Malendez will succeed to the office of chief executive.

President Araujo was attacked and shot last Tuesday night by several men, one of whom, a Guatemalan named Virilio Mulatillo, was arrested. Mulatillo, in a confession, declared that the plot to assassinate President Araujo had been concocted in Guatemala City.

One Who Declaims for Quarter of an Hour Ejected From Meeting.

Edinburgh, Scotland, Feb. 10.—Suffragettes gave James Keir Hardie, the Socialist and independent labor member for Merthyr Tydili, a warm reception at a meeting here. Although he assured them of the Labor party's support in having the next bill made a government measure the women rose, one after another, and denounced him.

He ordered the police to let them speak, but after one had declaimed violently for a quarter of an hour the chairman had her removed forcibly. This caused a great tumult.

The movement extends back for a quarter of a mile and will carry 3,000,000 cubic yards into the cut, completely filling a large section.

Their total sales were $77,116,859. The people who are patronizing mail order houses can judge from this whether or not goods are being sold to them at rock bottom prices.

have applied to the government for aid. These Indians have made their living by catching frogs for the Twin City market at Birch Cooley, the dry weather of 1911 exterminated most of the remaining frogs and the red men were unable to lay in a year's supply of provisions and are now starving. While suffering should be relieved, it would seem that Indians living in a well settled country should be required to work for their sustenance and not depend on fish, frogs or wild rice and in case of a failure of any of these crops call on the government to keep them from starving.

Canon of Westminster Thinks They Should Have Privilege.
"If the men find it a pleasure to smoke, why should that pleasure be relegated to the men and not to women?" asks Bishop William Boyd Carpenter, canon of Westminster, one of England's leading ecclesiastics, who is visiting in Boston.
He believes that a woman should smoke if she wants to. "Smoking among women will sooner or later be just itself," he says. "There will be always women who will do things above the ordinary to provoke criticism, and there will be women who will retain their womanly traits and stand for the highest and noblest that there is in life and will not tolerate even smoking as a pleasure."

Charles Schoop, son of Mrs. Schoop, is credited with having forced her to talk by threatening to see a fortune teller and get a description of the fire bug. The girl is alleged to have said that the howls of a pet dog which was burned to death at the time continued to ring in her ears, and that made her more willing to make a statement.

Or Is It Curiosity?
Just why should a call on the telephone be deemed important enough to break up the average personal conversation? Most men will cut a talk in two on getting a telephone summons and will turn at once to the instrument instead of telling a clerk to have the telephone caller wait or to call up later. Is there something hypnotic in the ring of a telephone, or is it the glad certainty that the one who uses the wire will be brief, while the personal caller may talk on forever?—Denver Republican.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Cuyuna Range to Keep up its Opposition Against Iniquitous Tonnage Tax Bill

EXPLORING EAST OF BRAINERD

Barrows Mine Installing Pump and Electric Haulage in Preparation for Big Season

The eternal vigilance which is the price of liberty is not being relaxed on the Cuyuna iron range, and the fact that no more peeps have been heard from the Borge-Frankson tonnage tax bill does not indicate that the bill is dead—it means that young Mr. Borge is still on deck and that the only way to counteract the quiet influence which is boosting this iniquitous measure is to have on the grounds at the capitol a committee working energetically to kill the bill.

This idea of the situation has been sensed and grasped by Cuyuna range people and has resulted in the action of the Deerwood Commercial club which appointed a committee, Messrs. E. A. Lamb, County Commissioner John Oberg and H. J. Ernster to confer with the commercial clubs of Brainerd, Crosby and Cuyuna relative to having representatives at the capitol to protect the interests of this range and to unceasingly fight the Borge-Frankson tonnage tax bill.

Reports reach the range that the brick and stone and similar industries of the state are to be examined into and if the tonnage tax bill becomes a law, then a determined fight will be made to put brick, granite, etc., on the same plan of taxation and give St. Cloud, Lake Park, Luce Falls, Red Wing and other towns a taste of their own medicine. Statistics are being gathered at present in all these towns and other places to use at the proper time.

The Duluth-Brainerd Mining company, whose stockholders are Duluth, Brainerd and Deewood men, is drilling in section 8, township 133, range 28, west of Brainerd and the drill is on its second hole. The Helmer Exploration company is doing the drilling.

Some attention is being paid to Emily township and also to the vicinity of Cross Lake. In section 2 of Cross Lake town Iowa parties have a drill at work. Robert J. Whiteside of Duluth is drilling in sections 21 and 14 in Cross Lake town.

Frank Edson is superintending the operations of a drill near Cedar Lake, Aitkin county in section 29, township 47, range 27.

The John Wahl and G. A. Rydberg interests of Duluth are striking good ore in section 33, township 136, range 26 northeast of Manganese.

In section 19, township 46, range 29, David Adams, Chester A. Congdon and others of Duluth have 72 holes down, some of which are in ore at 56 feet and the average at 40 feet. This will make one of the biggest stripping propositions on the range. The property is situated south of Riverton, 2 and 1/2 miles north of Loerch on the Northern Pacific railway and about seven miles east of Brainerd.

It is understood that George H. Crosby is negotiating to have a large company operate his holdings in the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 17, township 46, range 29, which lies in the same trend of the ore body as the Adams-Congdon lands.

It is reported that a deal for leasing lands in section 21, township 45, range 30 is under way.

P. A. Gough of the Stowell Exploration company has two drills at work in section 24, township 45, range 30. Another drill was recently placed south of Loerch.

The E. J. Longyear company is reported to be finding ore in the west half of the northeast quarter of section 13, township 45, range 30 extending across the section. Ore was previously found in the 160 acres to the east of the west half of the northeast quarter named. It is reported that 4,000,000 tons have been proven up, making it one of the best properties on the south range.

George H. Crosby has a drill at work in the southwest quarter of section 23, township 47, range 29. Ernest LeDuc of Duluth is drilling in the south half of the southeast quarter of section 23, township 47, range 29 west of Rabbit Lake and near the Mississippi river. The formation is said to be 400 feet in width.

E. F. Snively of Duluth has been on the range inspecting his interests in section 23, township 47, range 29. The Lerch laboratory is being equipped at Crosby and Herbert Rogers, formerly a chemist for the Oliver Iron Mining company at Coleraine and later on the Cuyuna range has been employed as an assistant.

The Vermes-Cuyuna Mining & Development company in hole No. 2 in its property in section 8, township 46, range 29 is striking fine ore from 45 to the 70 foot point, that being as far as the drill has penetrated. The Helmer Exploration company is doing the drilling. Drills of the Brainerd-Cuyuna Mining company are in good ore in their property in the city limits of Brainerd to the west of South Sixth street.

At the Barrows mine of the Virginia Ore Mining company, a subsidiary of the M. A. Hanna Co. work is proceeding installing the big 3,000 gallon pump. It is reported that 100 additional men will be put to work as soon as the pump is installed and mining will then commence in earnest.

MONTENEGRINS ARE VICTORIOUS

Special to Dispatch:

Podgoriatza, Montenegro, Feb. 10.—The Montenegrin army besieging the Turkish Fortress of Scutari carried the great Bardanjoli Hill by assault at 10:30 this morning after several hours of severe fighting.

at the Barrows mine. The ore taken out so far has simply been ore encountered in the work of sinking and crosscutting. An electric plant for light and power has been installed and the motor cars for use in the mine have arrived. A third shaft, a large three compartment, will be put down in the ore body early in the spring and the mine will ship ore all of next summer. There is on the ground at present a good sized stockpile. The opening of another mine in the spring near Barrows is very much spoken of.

Carlson Brothers of Deerwood have been operating a drill in section 25, township 47, range 30 across the river from Dr. J. L. Camp's Mission farm. It is reported they will resume drilling in the spring.

At the present time the Rogers-Brown Ore Co. is hoisting between 1200 and 1500 tons of ore daily from its Armour No. 1 and Armour No. 2 shafts near Crosby and about 700 tons from the Kennedy mine at Cuyuna. A large amount of timber and lagging is being received by this company from Shovel Lake, Lawler and other points on the Soo road, from 24 to 30 cars a week being received.

At the Kennedy mine situated at Cuyuna the air and timber shaft, located about 1,000 feet north of the present working shaft, has been completed. This shaft is down about 200 feet and connects with all other working parts of the mine, giving the underground workings excellent ventilation. The monthly payroll issued from the Crosby office of the Rogers-Brown Ore Co. has reached a figure of approximately $50,000. Other companies operating in the vicinity of Crosby will doubtless swell this amount to nearly $100,000.

The Pennington Mining company has just secured two standard gauge engines from the Oliver Mining company at Hibbing and they will be put in immediate operation at the mine. One shovel, stripping on the north side of the ore body, is removing about 2,000 yards of dirt a day. Owing to the heavy frost in the ground the work of stripping the property has not progressed as rapidly as it would otherwise. More men are being constantly employed and at the present time about 200 men are on the payroll. This pit mine is situated west of Crosby and about 80 rods west of the village of Ironton. The mine, giving employment to many men, will do much in the way of increasing the business of the north range.

Gaylord & Guith are at present operating eight drills on the range, two on section 3-46-29 and two on section 10 for the Mangan Iron & Steel company, besides the four now operating on section 23 for the Mesaba Cuyuna Iron Co.

A. F. Gross, president of the Mangan Iron & Steel Co. was at Crosby the first of the week and expressed himself as very much pleased with the work accomplished on the properties of his company. Important developments are expected from this concern this coming season.

Michael J. Haley, formerly of Superior and now of Minneapolis, one of the fee owners of the Inland Steel Co. Thompson mine, is visiting his old friend and partner in several enterprises, Thomas J. Keating of Deerwood.

The Iron Mountain Mining Co. has closed a contract with the Soo Line Insuring trackage to its mine in time to begin shipping this season.

PRINCES OF ORIENT INITIATE BIG CLASS

Forty-Six Candidates are Given the Illustrious Degree on Saturday Evening.

AT CITIZENS STATE BANK HALL

Grand Vizier C. D. Johnson, in His Inimitable Way, Taught Lessons of the Order

A scene of unparalleled vivacity and beauty greeted the 46 candidates at the Citizens State bank hall Saturday evening when the body of novices trod the burning sands in single file hitched to a camel's tail and were made illustrious Princes of the Orient.

Grand Vizier C. D. Johnson in his inimitable way assisted in the conferring of the degrees including the regular Oriental degree and the refined Oriental degree of humility which latter decoration was conferred on Attorney H. A. Swanson.

The candidates came from all parts of the country and a due measure of praise must be meted out to those old members of the order who are alive to their obligations and who induced the 46 to join. The list of candidates embraced William C. Engelhart, F. B. Winslow, J. C. Holz, A. L. Peterson, Joe Miran, Frank Patrick of Ironton, Wesley E. Small, R. N. Potter, K. B. Ribbel, Art Boppel, Ralph L. Russell, Albert Fox, A. O. Ellingboe, August Hallquist, A. D. Eechtel, V. E. Hanson, Alfred Nelson, J. D. Moorhead, A. C. Mraz, H. A. Swanson, R. M. Johnson, Wm. Veron, R. L. Mathews, L. O. Simonson, Wm. H. Spalding, A. J. Mueller, Art W. Olson, A. Funk, Dr. F. J. Skyrka, William Rose, W. H. Crowell, T. H. Schaefer, Ed. Anderson, Carl Hammerstein, Geo. Schlib, Axel Shepstedt, Louis Bourassa, J. Ronald Wyllie of Barrows, Wm. Mattson, Axel Johnson, Christ Kling, Roy Larson, H. T. Laymon and A. W. White of the Empress theatre, J. C. Davis and C. Witham.

After the ceremonies of initiation a luncheon was served and a social hour devoted to the telling of stories and reminiscences followed.

All credit is due M. T. Dunn for the rental of the hall. It means some work and expense to clean up after a luncheon served to 300 or more. Praise is also due the committees who worked to make it a success and by so doing kept alive the traditions of the order, that never unless absolutely necessary is an assessment to be levied.

GREAT FUTURE FOR BRAINERD

William Sauntry, of Stillwater, Predicts Brainerd Will be one of Biggest Cities in State

IRON ORE ON ALL SIDES OF IT

With Investments on Cuyuna Range. Mr. Sauntry has Unbounded Faith in Its Future

Brainerd, by reason of mining activities on the Cuyuna range, is destined to become one of the first cities in the state, according to William Sauntry, of Stillwater, who yesterday returned from a trip over Minnesota's new iron country. Mr. Sauntry is a guest at the Holland.

"While it may seem like a rash statement to make," said Mr. Sauntry, "I believe that the Cuyuna will more than equal the Mesaba range in production in a few years. The Cuyuna is really more than one range. Some claim two, but I believe there are three. There is ore on all sides of Brainerd, and I think that city is destined to become one of the biggest in the state. Crosby will be another big city."

"A number of properties will make their first ore shipments this year, while many others that are now being stripped will enter the shipping ranks in 1914."

Mr. Sauntry, who examined the Cuyuna for investment purposes, states that he has unbounded faith in its future.—Duluth News Tribune.

$100 REWARD, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

S. C. Hanna of Jasonville, Ind., May Bring Colony of Farmers to This County

S. C. Hanna, a farmer of Jasonville, Ind., has written the Dispatch for information regarding the agricultural advantages of Crow Wing county and the letter has been turned over to Carl Zapffe, president of the Commercial club. Mr. Hanna says:

"I would like to know something about the state of Minnesota as a stock and farming country and the price of good farming land with improvements, etc. I saw a copy of your paper, the Brainerd Dispatch, boosting your part of the country. I would like prices of improved farms and unimproved land and the principal advantages your county possesses over others."

"I am thinking of locating in some good country and if I can get the proper information from your part of the country I will come and investigate and if suitable will locate there."

"I can get up a colony of robust young farmers who have some means and are wide awake farmers and stock raisers etc., and we are willing to go anywhere where we can better our condition."

FIRST VISIT IN YEARS

P. J. Oberst, Sr., Who Made Brainerd in Pioneer Days, Visits His Son, P. J. Oberst, Jr.

To make this territory in the pioneer days of a quarter century ago and then to visit Brainerd in these modern days is the experience of P. J. Oberst, Sr., of Chicago, who last week was the guest of his son, P. J. Oberst, Jr. In 1872 he traveled for N. B. Harwood & Co., of St. Paul, one of the first drygoods houses in this section of the country.

Years ago Mr. Oberst called on the trade regularly in Brainerd and on the occasion of his last trip placed his grip in the caboose of a train which fell off the Northern Pacific railway bridge near the hospital at West Brainerd. Luckily Mr. Oberst had missed the train and thus escaped a fall and probable death in the river. That was his last visit in Brainerd and after those years he has found changes and improvements innumerable in Brainerd.

Brainerd was a frontier camp in the woods when he was here last. Now it is in the iron belt. Mr. Oberst, in the early days, made Fargo, N. D., before there was a house in town and opened his sample cases on the prairie. His customers lived in tents. He saw the hanging of 38 Indians at New Ulm at the time of the uprising.

His son, P. J. Oberst, Jr., is in business in Brainerd and has a shoe store, "The Selz Royal Blue Store" in the Citizens State bank block. A daughter, Mrs. J. F. Dempsey, resides in Henderson. Mr. Oberst, hale and hearty, is about 65 and is actively engaged in business being connected with the wholesale jewelry house of Norris, Allister Co. of Chicago. In his walk about Brainerd he met many men whom he knew in the pioneer days of this country.

An Insulting Offer.
A well known but broken down Detroit newspaper man who had been a power in his day approached an old friend the other day in the Pontchartrain hotel and said: "What do you think? I have just received the prize insult of my life. A paper down in Muncie, Ind., offered me a job." "Do you call that an insult?" "Not the job, but the salary. They offered me $12 a week." "Well," said the friend, "twelve a week is better than nothing." "Twelve a week—thunder!" exclaimed the old scribe. "I can borrow more than that right here in Detroit."—Detroit Free Press.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Empress

Tonight is Japanese night at the Empress and a new style of translucent Japanese tea sets, an absolutely new and unique kind of ware, something Brainerd has never seen before, will be given away.

The bill embraces features of interest and theater goes should patronize the Empress, Brainerd's own cozy and progressive moving picture show. "The Sawmill Hazard" is a thrilling melodrama staged by the Kalem people. It is as full of hair raising and thrilling scenes as one of Lincoln J. Carter's old fashioned melodramas which used to palpitate the hearts of Chicago's west side at the old Haymarket theatre.

Arthur White, who sang several solos in an acceptable manner at the Oriental inatory ceremonies Saturday night and is now a full fledged Prince, will appear in new selections.

African Hunt Pictures

Paul J. Rainey's African hunt pictures will be shown at the Brainerd opera house February 10 11 and 12. Of these pictures Hon. H. C. Keiser, mayor of St. Paul, said:

"It gives me great pleasure to recommend in the highest terms Paul J. Rainey's excellent pictures of African game and hunting scenes. I have witnessed moving pictures of many sorts but it seems to me that in these films the high water mark in moving picture art and adventure has been reached. To witness them is the next best thing to going into the jungles themselves and invading the home of the big game of the world. I consider them educational and thrilling beyond words and am glad to know that they are soon to return to St. Paul for a third visit."

W. S. Skelton, a merchant at Stanley, Ind., says he would not take $100.00 for the relief a single box of Foley Kidney Pills gave him. The exercises will be of a patriotic nature and will consist of addresses by pastors from the local churches, short talks by representatives of the G. A. R. Post, members of the school board, interspersed with patriotic readings and music by the school children.

Parents are invited to attend these exercises at the school buildings in their ward or the one most convenient and a special invitation is extended to members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C.

While the programs will be simple and in no sense an elaborate preparation, it is hoped to make them impressive in a patriotic way and to hold up before the children of the schools these two characters so strangely unlike, yet so remarkably similar in their devotion to country and as types of true Americanism. Your presence at the school will help to make these exercises the more impressive and to strengthen your children in their belief that these two birthdays are worthy of something more than a mere holiday of pleasure.

DIVINE JUSTICE IN THE DELUGE

The Deluge Rightly Understood
Was an Act of Mercy, Delivering Man From Slavery.

Pastor Russell's Interpretations Unlock Bible Mysteries—Dark Statements Made Luminous—Lucifer by Rebellion Became Satan—How His Evil Example Was Permitted to Test the Loyalty of All the Holy Angels.

Dayton, Ohio, February 9.—Great crowds heard Pastor Russell today at Memorial Hall. He spoke twice. We report his discourse on the Deluge from the text, "The flood came, and took them all away."—Matthew 24:39.

I continue today my subject of a week ago at Brooklyn. I am confident that many of you keep in touch with my weekly discourses through the newspapers. Last Sunday we considered the physical causes which led to the Deluge, and found them most reasonable, in full harmony with history and geology. Today we consider the Deluge from a different standpoint. We shall show from the Bible why God permitted the Deluge, and that He was fully justified in blotting out humanity except Noah and his family.

The Pastor showed that Adam, created perfect, could have maintained that perfection by continued obedience to his Maker. When Satan tempted the serpent and guided it to eat the forbidden fruit, he produced a temptation. Eve saw that the serpent was not poisoned by that fruit, but that it was the wisest of the animals. She thought increased wisdom would make her husband and herself like gods.

Only the Divine command stood between her and the highest ideals. She partook of the fruit and recommended it to Adam. He knew that death would surely follow disobedience; but he preferred to die rather than to be separated from Eve.

Disobedience led to expulsion from Eden, and the gradual execution of the sentence, "Dying thou shalt die." Adam died within the thousand-year Day in which he ate—nine hundred thirty years old. His race inherited his dying tendencies. Humanity are under the curse of death, said the Pastor.

The Deluge a Deliverance. Pastor Russell proceeded to show that according to the Bible the Deluge was a blessing in disguise. Mankind had gotten into slavery, and would have been wiped out by a new race, most peculiarly intruded upon humanity. The Bible states that this race consisted exclusively of males, propagated by the human female. These were giants, "men of renown."

The fallen race, he continued, were unable to cope with the superior strength of the intruders. Robbed of their wives and daughters, and compelled to drudge for their new masters, mankind found life a burden. The new race was vicious, brutal, immoral. The Bible declares, "The earth was filled with violence." Noah, however, was of pure Adamic stock—"perfect in his generations." See Genesis 6:4-11.

The Pastor declared that he had not studied the Bible carefully enough. The origin of the giants is clearly told there. Satan, a glorious angel, deflected to sin because of ambition, thought to establish a separate empire on earth. If he could become master of the first pair, their children would be his subjects.

When Satan perceived humanity growing weaker under the curse, he formulated a new plan. To the angels permission had been given to help humanity. These possessed the power to materialize. Satan suggested the begetting of a new race, with human mothers. To these, the angels could impart their own virility.

The Pastor then showed that the children of this illicit union were giants, renowned at a time when mankind rarely reached maturity earlier than a century. Genesis 6:4 proved that these bestial giants filled the earth with violence.

Hope For the Antediluvians.

Pastor Russell pointed out that these giants cannot be included in the redemptive work of Jesus, who died only for Adam's posterity. (1 Corinthians 15:22) The antediluvians of Adam's race have the same hope of a resurrection that the remainder of mankind have. This means, he said, a hope of restitution, to the perfection lost in Eden. This hope rests on God's promise that all the families of the earth shall be blessed in Abraham's Seed, "which Seed is Christ"—Jesus, the Head, and the Church, the members.

In the Messianic Kingdom the Seed will accomplish the blessing foreordained. St. Paul says, "If ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's Seed, and heirs according to the promise."

Next Sunday Pastor Russell will show what penalty Divine Justice has imposed upon Satan and his angelic helpers. Those not in touch with any of the hundreds of newspapers publishing his sermons are invited to drop him a card to Washington Temple or Brooklyn Tabernacle, if they desire further reading matter.

WOMAN MAKING INDEX OF 100,000 STARS FOR A CATALOGUE

Astronomer at Harvard Plans to Learn What Objects Are Made Of.

WHAT are the stars made of? This is one of the first questions asked by childhood. It was one of the first questions asked in the childhood of the human race. And in a few years it is going to be answered, say scientists.

Harvard university, or, more specifically, Miss Annie Cannon of the Harvard observatory, is solving the riddle that has puzzled man through all his millions of ages, solving it by means of a telescope, a prism and a camera. Since October, 1911, she has been at the work. In about two years more she will finish it, and in something like five years the observatory will publish the results. When Miss Cannon has completed her stupendous task one of the most vital achievements of astronomy, ancient or modern, will have been accomplished. The stars will have been analyzed, numbered and card catalogued.

In two years the stars' secrets will be so well known at Harvard observatory, it is hoped, that when an astronomer writes for information about the little pin point of light near the handle tip of the dipper, for instance, or about some other spark that cannot even be seen without a powerful telescope, Harvard observatory will simply turn to its card index. On the card that bears the number of the star in question there will be a few lines of neatly written data telling exactly of what the pin point light is made. There are to be about 100,000 of these cards when the classification is finished. They will include every star that can be seen and photographed through a telescope and prism.

Can See Only About 2,000.

"Perhaps this seems a small number," said Miss Cannon when she had been induced to talk about her work for a little while, "but, although people think they can see millions of stars on a clear night, as a matter of fact the human eye can discern only about 2,000."

In order to give Miss Cannon every possible assistance in her task of analyzing 100,000 stars her department at the Harvard observatory has been reduced to a rigid business basis. When the work was new she could analyze at the rate of 1,000 stars in three years. Now she analyzes 5,000 stars in one month, 200 stars an hour. On Jan. 1 she had examined about 65,000, which means about two-fifths of the work is completed.

"Harvard is the only place that has complete material for this work, and Miss Cannon is the only person in the world—man or woman—who can do the work so quickly," said Professor Edward C. Pickering, director of the observatory. In speaking about the importance of Miss Cannon's achievement. "The results will have a bearing on a great many departments of astronomy, especially on the speed with which stars move through space."

Extraordinary as would be the guesses of a novice as to how Miss Cannon finds out what is in the stars, no guess could be more extraordinary than the plain scientific fact.

Pictures are taken of the sky, each photograph being taken through a telescope and also through a prism. The prism breaks up the rays of light from each star and thus gives the spectrum of every one. With the photographing Miss Cannon has nothing to do. Her task is to examine the photographic plate through a magnifying glass. To the novice the photographic plate shows merely an indiscriminate sprinkling of tiny horizontal streaks.

Hieroglyphs Deciphered.

Of course the colors of each star's spectrum—so beautiful when seen through telescope and prism—do not show upon the photographic plate. But as it happens the colors are not the important part. Across the horizontal streaks of the spectrum run at intervals tiny vertical lines of greater or less breadth and intensity. It is these lines crossing the spectrum vertically that are the index to the constitution of the star.

These peculiar vertical scratches are the hieroglyphs which, deciphered by such an expert as Miss Cannon, tell of chemicals in the star's composition. They mean hydrogen, calcium, helium, iron, all the elements known to us and—as appears from peculiar lines not yet discovered in the earth. It will take about 2,500 photographic plates, 8 by 10 inches, to "cover" the whole sky. Often the plate shows two stars where it was thought only one existed. Many times the camera has caught stars that had never before been catalogued. The most wonderful plate yet taken by the eight inch telescope at either of the Harvard stations—in Cambridge or at Arequipa, Peru—contained seventy-five stars in a spot 4 by 5 inches.

Wonderful New World.

"It might seem that examining an hourly average of 200 streaks with vertical lines through them would not be interesting work," says Miss Cannon. "I know that if my whole heart were not in it such a task would be monstrous. But they aren't just streaks to me—each new spectrum is the gateway to a wonderful new world. In reading these plates world after world opens up under my eyes, territory that has never been explored before. People? I don't know. Astronomers can't say, one way or another. We can merely assemble all the information we can possibly obtain—and then draw deductions."

Miss Cannon is a Wellesley graduate. For fifteen years she has been connected with the Harvard observatory. Tests of her work have shown an amazingly high degree of accuracy where inaccuracy seems almost inevitable.

NEW FUEL FOR AUTOS FOUND

Has Double the Efficiency of Gasoline.

PREPARATION KEPT SECRET

The Basic Properties of Liquid Hidden Because It Could Be Made In the Home—Patents Would Not Protect Inventor—Has Proved a Success In Tests For Two Years.

Attempts to solve the fuel problem for automobiles grow more numerous each day. Many inventors are working with this end in view, and several lines of endeavor in the field have already been outlined. Still another, based upon a new liquid, the composition of which is held secret, is now being demonstrated in New York. Double the efficiency of gasoline, gallon for gallon, is claimed for this product, which is also intended for lighting and heating purposes for houses.

A number of patents cover the generator in which the liquid is mixed with air and the appliances for use of the resultant gas, such as lamps, candles, heaters and an automobile self starter. In motorcar use the liquid is not vaporized and the generator takes the place of a carburetor, the gas and air being then drawn into the cylinder and fired in the usual way.

Manufacture Simple. It is said by those who plan to put this fuel on the market that its manufacture is exceedingly simple and that were it patented instead of a secret process the inventor would be robbed of his deserts, because the formula could be obtained from the patent office and the liquid made at home. It could be put on the market at a large profit, they say, at 20 cents a gallon, and if the claim of double gasoline efficiency worked out in practical experience this would, of course, mean a saving of more than half at the present price of gasoline.

Motorcars have been in operation in Buffalo on this fuel for about two years without carbonization or deposit in the cylinders and have shown good results both in power and mileage. T. H. Pollock, a mechanical engineer of Monongahela, Pa., recently experimented with the fuel in his thirty-five horsepower car and wrote as follows of his experiences with the liquid, which has been named after its inventor.

"The carburetor was removed, a temporary mixer was attached to the manifold and the generator connected to the mixer by means of a three-quarter inch rubber hose. The mixer was connected up to the throttle lever, which enabled the driver to control the gas and air from the wheel.

How It Worked.

"After a run of a few miles a knock developed in the cylinder. Not knowing what caused it, the machine was run back to the garage and the rods and cylinders examined, and it was found that all carbon had been removed and the cylinders were very bright and dry. It was concluded that more oil would have to be used. This was done. The run was continued until seventy-one miles had been made; then the carburetor was replaced, connections made to the gasoline tank and a run of seventy-one miles was made.

"When the comparison was made it was found that the consumption of liquid was 2% to 1 in favor of the new liquid.

Derivation a Secret.

It could not be learned whether the liquid was derived from a petroleum or a spirit base. The expert who has charge of it in New York said both sources could be used for its manufacture, and added that if the restrictions were removed from wood alcohol it could be made still more cheaply than at present, perhaps for 7 or 8 cents a gallon. The gas had little odor as it came from the generator and practically none after it had been burnt in a stationary engine. Only the slightest air pressure—or suction—was needed to cause the generator to operate, breathing into it being quite sufficient. The engine operated smoothly and there was no missing or irregularity in the explosion. The generator is a series of trays with upright wicks, which take up the liquid to a point of saturation. For automobiles it weighs from sixty to eighty pounds.

The Easy Laxative

In justice to yourself you should try Rexall Orderlies,—your money back if you don't like them. They are a candy confection that really do give easy relief from constipation.

Good health is largely dependent upon the bowels. When they become sluggish the waste material that is thrown off by the system accumulates. This condition generates poisons which circulate throughout the body, tending to create coated tongue, bad breath, headache, dull brain action, nervousness, biliousness and other annoyances.

Avoid harsh cathartics and physics. They give but temporary relief. They often aggravate the real trouble. They are particularly bad for children, delicate or aged persons.

Rexall Orderlies

Come in tablet form, taste just like candy and are noted for their easy, soothing action upon the bowels. They don't purge, grip, cause nausea, looseness, nor the inconvenience attendant upon the use of purgatives. Their action is so pleasant that the taking of Rexall Orderlies almost becomes a desire instead of a duty.

Children like Rexall Orderlies. They are ideal for aged or delicate persons as well as for the most robust. They act toward relieving constipation, and also to overcome its cause and to make unnecessary the frequent use of laxatives. They serve to tone and strengthen the nerves and muscles of the bowels and associated organs or glands.

Make Us Prove It

We guarantee to refund every penny paid us for Rexall Orderlies if they do not give entire satisfaction. We ask no promises and we in no way obligate you. Your mere word is sufficient for us to promptly and cheerfully refund the money.

Doesn't that prove that Rexall Orderlies must be right? You must know we would not dare make such a promise unless we were positively certain that Rexall Orderlies will do all we claim for them. There is no money risk attached to a trial of Rexall Orderlies, and in justice to yourself, you should not hesitate to test them.

Rexall Orderlies come in convenient vest-pocket size tin boxes; 12 tablets, 10c; 36 tablets, 25c; 80 tablets, 50c.
